

PERSONAL STATEMENT

Designer from San Francisco Bay Area. Passionate for web, design, development, product and art. Process of creation and learning new skillsets are of the essence.

In academic and professional endeavors, i have had the privilege and opportunity both locally and abroad. It's been valuable to be in various environments and to be able to collaborate with diverse individuals. Grateful and humbled to be alive during such a time to work in such an expressive industry.

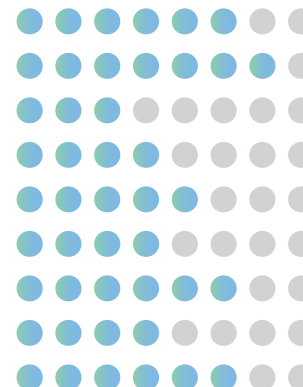

Various experience as a freelancer/contractor as well as an employee in the workplaces. A lifelong learner, i will continue to learn and together grow with individuals of similar character and integrity.
